DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 25-29, 31-33, 46, 48, and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Green.

The device as claimed is disclosed by Green with a housing having a base 16 with magnets 18, a laser generator 38 disposed within the housing for projecting a laser beam through an opening with the laser generator being rotatably coupled in the housing for rotating the laser beam from 0 degrees to 90 degrees with respect to the bottom of the housing by a rotating knob 50, a bubble level 30,26 on the housing, and a switch 66 to turn the laser generator on and off.

3. Claims 35, 46, 47, 49, 50, 54-56, and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee.

The device as claimed is disclosed by Lee with a housing 2,3, a laser generator 61 disposed within the housing for projecting a laser beam through an opening with the laser generator being rotatably coupled to a baseplate 8 which is removably attached to the housing, the laser beam being rotatable from 0 degrees to 90 degrees with respect to the bottom of the baseplate, the laser beaming being fan shaped, and a switch to turn the laser generator on and off.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 2859

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 34 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Green in view of Malard et al ('879).

The device as claimed is substantially disclosed by Green as stated in the rejection recited above for claims 25-29, 31-33, 46, 48, and 55, but lacks a retractable door over the opening which also acts as the switch for the laser. Malard et al teaches using a retractable door 20 to protect the laser and lens and to act as the switch to power the laser when open and to turn off the laser when the door is shut. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add a retractable door to Green as taught by Malard et al ('879) to protect the lens and laser while also working a the switch to control the laser.

6. Claims 35, 46, 47, 49, 50, 54, and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee in view of Malard et al ('879).

The device as claimed is substantially disclosed by Lee as stated in the rejection recited above for claims 35, 46, 47, 49, 50, 54-56, and 58, but lacks a retractable door over the opening which also acts as the switch for the laser. Malard et al teaches using a retractable door 20 to protect the laser and lens and to act as the switch to power the laser when open and to turn off the laser when the door is shut. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add a retractable door to Lee as taught by Malard et al ('879) to protect the lens and laser while also working a the switch to control the laser.

Art Unit: 2859

7. Claims 15-18, 20-24, and 38-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee in view of Malard et al ('879) as applied to claims 36, 37, 51-53, and 57 above, and further in view of Green.

The device as claimed is disclosed by the combination of Lee and Malard et al together as stated in the rejection recited above for claims 36, 37, 51-53, and 57, but lack the laser module being rotatable relative to the housing. Green teaches rotating the laser module relative to the housing to direct the laser at any desired direction. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the laser module of the combination of Lee and Malard et al ('879) rotate relative to the housing as taught by Green to direct the laser at any desired direction.

Allowable Subject Matter

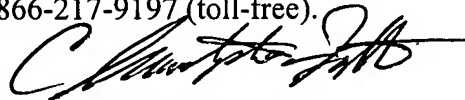

8. Claims 19 and 30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
